Jason: That scream must have been a bat!

Sunny: Jason? You're alive!

Jason: Of course I'm alive!

Sunny: Sorry I asked! Geez!

Niota: Sunny?

Sunny: I'm right here Niota! Are you listening Niota? NIOTA!!!

Jason: I'm getting tired of hiding under this table! I'm out of here! (leaves)

Sunny: Jason? You there buddy?

Jason's not here. He's gone away.

Sunny: WHO THE HECK ARE YOU AND WHAT DO YOU WANT!

I only want your life Sunny. I've taken all of your brothers and sisters already. I especially liked that Niota. She was very, very good...

Niota: Yeah right.

Cheryl: Niota! You spoiled it!

Sunny: (Comes out from under the table) Spoiled what?

Jason: Man, you're slow. We pulled a prank on you, hothead.

Sunny: You mean, you guys were all behind this?

All but Sunny: (sigh) DUH!!!

Cheryl: You know what, I just realized this, but, Fred and Davis missed the greatest Halloween prank we have ever pulled on Sunny!

Niota: Yeah, they did!

Sunny: Yeah, but know what? Our story of this years Halloween prank was so long that we can't fit any room to fit last years Halloween prank. But how can I be mad? That was pretty funny.

Cheryl: (thinking) Funny this year. I took it easy on you this year, Sunny. Just wait until next year...

Hello! It's Sunny!

Jason: And Jason!

Sunny: Here to talk about this month's special edition of Real Appeal!

Jason: Yeah, this is the collector's edition everyone! This magazine will be worthwhile!

Sunny: Sure is! It also has a very special article that can help you during class! You don't have that problem with disturbing boys since you don't switch classes, right?

Jason: Well, I wouldn't say that...

Sunny: Well, as you aren't the one causing the trouble, I'm not worried about it.

You aren't the one causing the trouble, right Jason?

Jason: Well I wouldn't say that either...

Sunny: Alright, whatever. Anyway, the SunnyStory this month is about one of my past Halloween experiences.

Jason: BOO!

Sunny: Jason, last year that might have scared me, but this year is different. I've grown up now.

Oooooooooooooooooo...

Sunny: Very funny Jason. Jason? Where are you Jason? Jason!?

Ooooooooooooooooooooo.....ooooooooOOOOOOoooooooo.....

Sunny: AHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!!!

Niota: Sunny? Are you in there? looks in and screams sharply

How to Deal With Disruptive Boys

Are you tired of those annoying disruptive boys that help you not get your homework done? Well here are some things to yell at them.

1. Be quiet.
2. Please be quiet.
3. Are you getting your work done by talking?
4. Oh, so you're done. Study for something or read or draw or some other quiet activity.
5. HEY! I NEED TO HEAR MYSELF THINK HERE!
6. SHUT UP!
7. Hey, did you hear about the pop quiz we are going to have in S.S.? Yeah, it has like, fifty hard questions, so you better get studying.
8. Make a nice card, and on the inside put SHUT UP (or something of the sort). They will think it is a love letter from their crush, but when they look inside, well, it isn't exactly something that will get a date with anyone.
9. Hey blabbermouth, could you quit the talking? I need to work on something you should.
10. I've told you nine different things, and you still won't shut up? That's pretty sad.

Well that's all for now. I hope you have found these useful. If you didn't you are obviously one of the talkers. Remember to thank Sarah and Andrea for this great idea. THANK YOU!!!

Sunny: My favorite tip? Tip #10, of course!

Ellie's Guide to Everything

Subject: Guys

Dear Ellie,

I like this one guy, okay. Like a crush. But one of my good friends likes him too. My parents are also good friends with his parents. What do I do!?

Your Friend,

Guy Troubled

Dear Guy Troubled,

First you have to figure out if you really like this guy. Your parents shouldn't be a problem if they do. Talk to your friend. If you know that she likes him more then just let her have him! But if you think you deserve it more than her go ahead! If you ask him out your friend should understand. If they don't they aren't really your friend. You should be brave to talk to him. They aren't that hard to talk to so seriously, get used to it!

Hope I could help,

Ellie

Song you should be listening to: Love Stoned by Justin Timberlake.

Trick or Treats, Candy, Dates?

Hello. It's Niota. I actually decided to put in an article this month. We all love trick or treating, we all love candy, but do we all love dances? I know that the Halloween Dance is coming up, and it's the last chance to get a date if all possible. Shy? Don't be with my tips...

1. If you can't even talk to the guy forget it! Gain the courage!
2. If you get comfortable with him ask him out! Get your nerve going! You're the boss here! He's not the one who makes the decision here!
3. First date now, huh? DON'T BE STRESSED OUT!!!! This is your time to be focused on him. If you see your best buds over with their dates, ask him if he wants to join them.
4. Someone else crushed on him? If you think you deserve it, go for it! If you don't someone else will. One boy is not like another. I swear.
5. If he decides he likes you afterwards, fine. It was what you were going for, right? If you didn't like him as a date choose another candidate. There are plenty more.

I would like to thank Ellie for giving me this idea. So, to make her happy, here is her new e-mail address! This one should work now.
