

Sunny Days's Page cont.

The shouting was loud. Who would be elected?

Sunny: That's... great Doug. You have a bestseller on your hands.

Doug: REALLY!?

Three days later Doug's book hits the shelves and becomes a best seller.

People everywhere are discovering Doug's book to be a great experience. Sunny was furious until he saw the income Doug was making.

I'm back! Not a surprise, eh?

I am bored. There is absolutely nothing to d-
DAVIS YOU ZERO-GRAVITY BRAIN! WHAT IN MOONDUST'S NAME ARE YOU DOING!?

Davis: Doin' my homework.

Sunny: First graders don't get homework. And they don't try to get a typewriter from the hall closet.

Davis: Well, it's for Doug. He got an inspiration for a book in a dream.

Sunny: Isn't 'inspiration' too big of a word for you Davis... is something wrong with your head?

Davis: Is 'I stole the comet fuel so you better not lecture me about what's wrong with my head' too big of a phrase for you?

Sunny: I only got 'I stole the comet fuel' and that's it.

Doug: Hurry up with that typewriter Davis! I'm running out of writing strength!

Davis: Coming!

Sunny: GET BACK HERE WITH THAT TYPEWRITER!

Doug: I got the whole first chapter done in 2.2 seconds!

Sunny: Sun of a nebula, that's fast.

Doug: Wanna read it! C'mon Sunny read it!

Sunny: Oh fine!

Chapter 1

The pressure was on. There was only one day until the vote.

"Vote for me!" said Hilary Suntain.

"No, vote for me!" said Barak O' Shine!

"Screw them, vote for me!" said Mitt Redgiant.

Ellie's Guide to Everything!

Dear Ellie,

A group of girls in my school are treating me unkindly and spreading really mean rumors about me! What do I do?!!

Signed,

What Am I Going To Do!

Dear What Am I Going To Do,

I think you should (I know I use this answer a lot, but it works for a lot of situations!) just be yourself! Find a real group of friends that like you for who you are and don't believe things like that. I know the you might think right now that those girls rule the school, but you can be the better person!

Signed,
Ellie

What You Should be Listening To?!!

Hanna's Health

Ten Quick Tips to keep you healthy. (You too Sunny!)

1. Wash your hands
2. Cover your cough
3. Keep a tissue handy
4. Put hand sanitizer in your locker
5. Don't borrow lip gloss
6. Don't share straws
7. Stay away from little evil siblings that are sick
8. Don't go outside with no coat on.
9. Wear warm clothes.
10. Take vitamins daily. You can drink hot chocolate daily too, since it has more antioxidants than coffee...

Stay Healthy,

Hanna

No worries Hanna! I'm in Mexico! The weather is always hot down here! (thinking to himself)
I only wish I could afford to go to Mexico...

Dinner is Served!

On today's menu: Eggs

Eggs are a good food to eat when you have a sore throat. Uh oh, your parents just left the house and you're alone! Have no fear! Chef Sarah is here!

Materials:

Butter Eggs Salt & Pepper Spatula Pan to cook in

1. Turn on the stove. (You may need supervision for the first few tries.) Place the pan on the stove, get a regular spoonful of butter and place it in the pan. Use the spoon to spread out the butter as it's melting.
2. Get an egg and crack it, letting the yolk and white spill out onto the pan with the butter (Wash your hands after doing this step). Don't freak out if it makes loud popping noises, just turn down the temperature.
3. If you want to make scrambled eggs, mix the egg around with the spatula. If you want to make fried eggs, let it sit until the whites go from clear to white. Then loosen the edges of the egg.
4. Scrambled: Add salt and pepper as you are mixing. Keep mixing until you have nice, scrambled eggs. Turn off the stove and with the spatula, scrape the pan off so the eggs go on your plate. Fried: With the spatula, flip the egg over (add salt and pepper first). It may not work the first time, and a broken egg is a broken egg.
5. Keep flipping the egg until it starts to get somewhat brown. Lift it off the pan and place it on your plate.
6. If there are any remaining scraps of your egg, dispose of them properly.

Remember: If the egg is popping at you, TURN DOWN THE HEAT. Please try with adult supervision first.
