Mostly A's

You have a good friendship with the people that you know and always choose to have around you. The problem is, you aren't always open to other people's suggestions, and many people may be spreading rumors behind your back about how rude you are. Sit next to someone else besides your normal sitting buddies in the lunchroom, and see if you can get to know the person a bit better.

Mostly B's

You're a caring, not-very-selfish person who likes to be open to suggestions and is friendly around everyone. Trouble is, you may be a bit shy, and that prevents you from being as good as the other people. Raise your voice and just be YOU!

Mostly C's

Sorry to say this, but you've got a problem. No friends, no happiness during school hours. Try and make friends with someone you'd think you'd get along with, even if it's just a friendly "hi" or a long conversation. Get to know some people in your class that are sometimes rejected, and try and turn those C's to B's!

Sunny Days's Page

Guess who's back, back, back...

It's me, faithful readers! Sunny Days! You knew I'd come back and haunt you all! Ha ha ha! My summer was pretty great. Aurora and I are still dating, although she's a little less interested in me because of someone...someone named Ellie!

Well anyway, there is a new design on the site, and more features to be added to added to it, and more updates, and more other stuff. Since my boss learned more HTML and other stuff over the summer, she made a cool marquee on the top of the page. A new chatbox will be added, more cool polls, more games, more of yours truly, and a lot more surprises!

In fact, I heard that their could be some new videos going up soon. Don't tell!

My vacation wasn't exceptional, especially having to drag Doug along (you can almost imagine what happened there. Just take what you imagined times two and you get my vacation).

So I just want to say, welcome back, peace out, and keep on livin'!

2. Good, good. There is a tough-looking man standing by the water fountain in the mall. What color is his sombrero?

- A. Red (go to bottom of page)
- B. White (continue on!)

3. Okay, now for my last question. What color are the mayor's long johns?

- A. Red (continue on)
- B. White (continue on)

Oh I'm so sorry, kitten, but the mayor's long johns are, in fact, pink! In that case, you would've had to pick both cards, kitten.

I'm so sorry, kitten, but that's wrong. I'll ask you again sometime.

Thanks for taking my quiz!

Hi, I'm Purrl. I live in Nellie's town of Serenity on Animal Crossing: Wild World. I'm here to give you a quiz!

Ah, I see you have completed all of the questions correctly. Well done! Your prize will be on page 8 somewhere.
